SUMMARY

Internal communications leader and systems thinker with 10+ years of experience building high-trust, high-clarity environments across distributed teams. Proven success in architecting internal comms strategy, aligning executive messaging, and enabling company-wide engagement during scale and transformation.

At SpiderOak, I led internal operations through post-Series C growth, designing company-wide communications rhythms, launching leadership enablement programs, and building async knowledge systems that tied our values to day-to-day execution. I focus on clear language, inclusive messaging, and creating scalable frameworks that let people do their best work.

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

SPIDEROAK

Vice President, Operations

Aug 2022 – Present

- Developed and executed internal communications strategy across a fully remote org, spanning Engineering, Product, CX, and HR.
- Created company-wide messaging rhythms: weekly updates, leadership comms, async documentation, and live Q&As.
- Acted as comms advisor to the CEO and leadership team—supporting town halls, values rollouts, and cross-functional updates.
- Built scalable onboarding, feedback, and recognition frameworks to strengthen employee experience and cohesion across time zones.
- Designed async-first playbooks and internal documentation standards for clarity, accessibility, and consistency.

Vice President, Customer Success

Oct 2018 – Jul 2022

- Led internal knowledge sharing and enablement efforts across product, support, and sales.
- Launched cross-functional playbooks and GTM alignment sessions, ensuring consistent internal messaging from launch to customer handoff.
- Worked closely with marketing and product to ensure messaging alignment across internal and external stakeholders.
- Built communications systems for internal feedback loops and issue escalation that improved cross-team trust and responsiveness.

Customer Success Director

Jan 2017 – Sep 2018

- Created support documentation, onboarding guides, and internal process docs that improved clarity and self-service adoption.
- Introduced structured communication channels for customer insights, feeding real-time input into product roadmap decisions.
- Served as the connective tissue between leadership and frontline teams, translating strategic shifts into actionable messaging.

PROJECTS & VENTURES

FREELANCE CONSULTANT

Jul 2013 – Present
