SUMMARY

Strategic operator and relationship builder with over a decade of experience leading customer-centric teams in fintech and SaaS. Trusted by executives to build scalable systems, lead cross-functional initiatives, and act as the connective tissue between product, engineering, and the customer.

Led customer expansion, onboarding, and product delivery efforts across high-security platforms for financial clients. Passionate about helping institutions modernize how they serve people—with an eye toward simplicity, trust, and outcomes. Equally comfortable speaking with VPs or devs, and always focused on building rapport and solving the root problem.
