Re: Americas Sales Manager – Kuiper Mobility

Dear Kuiper Team,

Over the past four years at SpiderOak, I've helped lead our expansion into the satellite market—especially in cybersecurity for space-based systems. While I haven't held a formal sales title, I've partnered closely with engineering, product, and customer teams to bring space-focused solutions to market, shape contracts, and guide complex stakeholder conversations. Kuiper's mission to deliver secure, low-latency connectivity to moving platforms resonates deeply with me.

What excites me most about this role is its blend of strategy, partnership, and global coordination. I've built and led cross-functional teams, supported multi-million dollar fundraises, and worked across time zones and languages (Mandarin included) to deliver high-stakes results. I've seen firsthand how customer obsession and internal alignment can unlock adoption in emerging markets—and I'd love to bring that same energy to Kuiper's mobility efforts.

I understand the nuance of selling technical products to non-technical stakeholders, and I'm fluent in the art of balancing product realities with customer aspirations. More than anything, I'm drawn to the scale of Kuiper's vision—and the chance to be part of the team turning it into reality.

If this sounds like someone you'd like to work with, I'd love to chat.

Warmly,
Adam Tervort
