Hiring Crew
Pirate Ship

Dear Pirate Ship Crew,

As a longtime customer and loud fan of Pirate Ship (ask my wife or my consulting clients—I won't shut up about you), I've admired the product, the branding, and the values behind it. So when I saw this role open, it was an easy decision to raise my flag.

Over the past decade, I've built and led people systems across high-trust, remote-first teams. At SpiderOak, I scaled operations and people strategy through post-Series C growth—designing hiring and onboarding systems, building async documentation cadences, leading performance frameworks, and creating internal rhythms that help people do their best work without burning out. I've managed global teams, coached leaders, and built playbooks that keep culture sharp as scale sets in.

You're not just looking for someone who knows HR—you want someone who knows how to build systems that are deeply human and operationally excellent. That's what I do. And if I can help the Pirate Ship crew keep its culture strong, clear, and hilarious while we keep growing—well, I'd be honored to climb aboard.

Yours in clarity, trust, and the occasional "Arrrrr," Adam Tervort
